

I am strongly opposed to BPL. I have enjoyed amateur radio for over 40 years and have experienced much power line interference during that time. We do not need to introduce another source of RFI to our HF spectrum, especially in areas already served by cable access to the internet.